

Prof. Bella Kaufman is a breast oncologist and the head of the Breast Oncology Institute in Sheba Medical Center. She is also the President of the Oncology Institute in Sheba Medical Center. Prof. Kaufman supervised many clinical trials, as well as, translational studies in the field of breast cancer. She is a member of national cancer research committees, as well as, a member in international scientific advisory boards for breast cancer (prIME Oncology, Susan G. Komen Foundation).

Bella Kaufman is the head of a Translational Breast Cancer Research Group aiming to integrate basic research in the field of breast cancer with clinical investigation.